

JAILED OVER IRON ATTACK

Gang members branded men in 'sadistic' assault

by LOUISE ROBERTSON

lrobertson@london.newsquest.co.uk

The actions of two gang members who imprisoned, stripped and branded innocent men with a steaming hot iron amounted to torture, according to a Kingston Crown Court judge.

James Edwards, 22, of London Road, Croydon, and Rushdi Said, 21, of Peterborough Road, Fulham, were sentenced for their crimes on Friday, May 21.

The pair were part of a group of six or seven ICE gang members involved in a row on Kingston's Cambridge Road estate on July 3, 2009.

They approached their victims, Liam Redknapp and Dimitri Vernon, who were walking back from a night out, and demanded money.

Mr Redknapp and Mr Vernon were released by the gang and went to a female friend's flat. Mr Redknapp jokingly bragged by an open window they had failed to find the £500 he had on him.

His claims were overheard by the gang who climbed through the window and began a prolonged attack on the men, who were stripped to their socks and pants.

'Ringleader': James Edwards

Lambasted: Rushdi Said

Judge Nicholas Price said: "It was doubtful he had as much as 50p on him."

The men were told, "You can either be shot, stabbed or ironed", before being forced on to a bed and systematically burned with the iron - Mr Redknapp first, as his friend listened helplessly to his screams.

During the trial Mr Vernon told the court: "I just knew it was going to happen to me next. I clenched my teeth and the iron was hot on my skin. I was grinding my teeth and shouting."

Both men were too scared to report the crime immediately. Mr Redknapp was so terrified of retribution he did not seek medical attention.

The court heard Mr Vernon still suffered flashbacks that brought on epileptic fits.

Judge Price said he was in no doubt Edwards was the ringleader, responsible for a "deliberate, sustained, sadistic attack".

He said: "You are, in my view, a very dangerous young man."

A pre-sentence report revealed Edwards continued to deny the crime, despite being found guilty on Monday, April 12, and said nobody would suffer long-term damage, nobody died and that it was not as serious as stabbing.

Mr Price said: "The consequences of your actions had an appalling and long-lasting effect. There's no doubt in my mind whatsoever that the only appropriate sentence in your case is one of imprisonment for public protection."

Edwards, a father-of-one, committed the crime just two-and-a-half months after being released on licence from a young offender institution.

He received a six-year sentence on May 27, 2005, when 17 years old, for stabbing a 22-year-old in the back outside Burger King in Kingston.

Friday's conviction, for GBH with intent to cause malicious or unlawful wounding, and false imprisonment, are on top of 15 previous convictions.

MP Goldsmith admits upcoming 'challenges'

After a lively and closely contested campaign, Zac Goldsmith, MP for Richmond Park and north Kingston, now faces the reality of running a thriving constituency under a coalition Government.

Mr Goldsmith's first official engagement in the House of Commons was on Tuesday, May 18.

Mr Goldsmith said: "Parliament is a unique place and takes some getting used to. "Even for old timers these are strange times."

Mr Goldsmith has already made an impact, ensuring his campaign's pledges are not hollow promises.

Heathrow's third runway, a primary concern for the area, has been called off.

Mr Goldsmith has also been working closely with the Culture Secretary to scrap Richmond Park's parking charges, and the new Health Minister Andrew Lansley, to ensure key services at Kingston Hospital are safeguarded.

Mr Goldsmith acknowledged the challenges and compromises associated with the coalition Government, but remained positive, and highlighted the upsides to the Tory - Liberal Democrat partnership.

He said: "We can benefit from the Lib Dem commitment to civil liberties.

"I am a fan of fixed-term Parliament, that we now have. Likewise, removing the tax burden on the first £10,000 earned.

"The challenge is for politicians to resist putting banana skins in front of their former rivals with a view to boosting their own party's interests."

Rickshaw rally trio's adventure in India

Adventure junkies from New Malden and Hook have returned from the experience of a lifetime - a madcap charity dash across India.

Andy Watson and Dan Lucas, both 27, from Motspur Park, and 26-year-old Olivia Duggal from Hook raised £3,768 for clean water projects in developing countries.

The plucky team, Kiss My Rickshaw, finished an admirable 11th out of 75 teams taking part in the 2,485-mile (4,000km) desert race in March.

Ms Duggal said it was a huge challenge as they trundled through India in a tiny three-wheeled rickshaw that struggled to gain speed.

She said: "It was an amazing experience but much harder than we ever thought.

"We had to drive 12 to 13 hours each day because our rickshaw was so slow [with a max speed of only 34mph] so we couldn't gain any distance. But that's what made it an adventure."

Charities Mercy Corps and Frank Water Projects organised the wacky event to raise £75,000 in a bid to bring clean water to communities by working with India-based groups.

Tennis net is torched

Children who turned up for tennis coaching in Manor Park were greeted with an empty court on Saturday, May 22, after a net was stolen and burned.

The net was set alight on a bench in the park at about 10.30pm on Friday, prompting calls for the park to be locked in the evenings.

Daniel Goodger, who stood as a councillor in recent local elections, said: "During the day, there is no problem - they are used as they should be, but at night all the parks seem to get vandalised. The police do not seem to want to lock the parks, they say it's better because they know where the kids are."

Tennis coach Ilge Alpay said Manor Park did not have any major problems, but that the tennis courts may now be locked at night.

She said: "I think this was kids a bit bored during exam season. It was a bit of a shock when we turned up for mini tennis and the U9s had no net, but luckily we had another court."

"It's more of a nuisance than anything."

She said a new net would cost between £30 and £50.

'Treatments were genuine'

by LOUISE ROBERTSON

lrobertson@london.newsquest.co.uk

A physiotherapist struck off for misconduct and impairment has maintained his innocence, convinced he is the victim of false allegations and a flawed disciplinary system.

Richard Howlett, 57, was originally struck off and banned from working from his Mustard Seed Physiotherapy Clinic in Chessington, after allegations he provided treatments that caused distress to Ms X, without adequate explanation.

They included the fact he applied gel to the patient's breasts and, on a separate occasion, strapped her into a garden chair without making it clear why.

He appealed the Health Professions Council (HPC) decision at the High Court, but was suspended in April 2009 when new allegations surrounding Mrs B surfaced. He has not worked since.

Protesting his innocence: Richard Howlett

On Thursday, May 20, an HPC panel concluded Mr Howlett made Mrs B undress and walk around the room, without legitimate reason, patted her inner thigh saying "good girl", made her touch her toes with her T-shirt off, again without legitimate reason, and setting excessive exercises, which caused her pain. None of the actions were sexually motivated and Mr Howlett insisted they were all genuine treatments or exercises.

An HPC report into the hearing said he had failed to remedy his practice and instead denied any shortcomings and said any fault was with the patients.

Mr Howlett said he was being punished for maintaining his innocence.

He said: "The more you protest your innocence, the more in danger you are."

"They just think you've learned nothing so they apply an even heavier sanction, because you've shown no regret or remorse."

Mr Howlett has the option to appeal, but his wife Elizabeth, 66, said they had no money left.

She said: "Where do we go from here at this age?"

"Somebody said he could retrain - at 57? They are in cuckoo land."

"There are no jobs for the young ones, let alone for a 57-year-old."

Mr Howlett said if he did appeal, it would be to try to clear his name, not so that he could practise again.

CRIMINAL CHECKS: New staff at Kingston Hospital will have to pay for registering their own criminal record checks from November this year. Only the lowest paid workers will be helped to come up with the extra cost of registering with the Independent Safeguarding Authority. Current staff will have five years to sign up.

GUN CHARGE: A former landlord has been charged with keeping an unlicensed shotgun at his Surbiton pub. Ian Morton, 42, who was landlord of the Angel, in Howard Road, will appear at Kingston Magistrates' Court on June 1.

NEW CHAIRMAN: An Old Tiffinian has been appointed the new chairman of Kingston Probud. Chris Shires, 66, a former deputy director of education, will head up the group, which runs activities for retired and semi-retired men. Visit probud-kingston.org.uk.

Hospital breaks into top 40 for the 10th time in a row

Kingston Hospital has been named one of the top 40 hospitals in the country for the 10th year running.

The hospital award was based on 21 categories, including patients' experiences and quality of care and was given by CHKS, part of the Capita group, at a ceremony on May 12. Kate Grimes, chief executive, said: "This is great news for the hospital. To be one of just five trusts to receive this award consistently over a 10 year period speaks volumes about the staff here at the hospital and the services the hospital offers."

The hospital also came second in the data quality category, with its team of clinical coders inputting the work carried out, vital to ensure they get paid for every operation.

'Taking his chance'

Said was treated more leniently, but lambasted for not pleading guilty during the trial, to "take his chances" on the jury.

Judge Price said: "You did not personally wield that iron, but I do take into account you helped to hold down one boy while the other was being burnt. This was in my view a group attack in that flat and each took some part."

Edwards was handed an indeterminate sentence of 10 years, of which he will have to serve at least half, plus three years for false imprisonment, to run concurrently.

Said received four years and nine months for the GBH charge, and three years for false imprisonment, to run concurrently.

Police stood outside the courtroom because many of their young friends had come to show their support. Edwards' mum shouted "I love you James" as he was led away to start his prison sentence.

Joy of foster caring

by DAVID LINDSELL

dlindsell@london.newsquest.co.uk

A single mother has spoken of her joy after foster caring gave her son a big sister.

Sophina, 15, was fostered by Kate Martin, 38, an IT office manager from Chessington, who was speaking as part of Foster Care fortnight.

She said JJ, her son, now had an older sister to spend time with.

Ms Martin said: "It does pull at your heartstrings because he's an only child. My foster daughter was brought up as an only child and they both love it.

"They get on fantastically. She is such a fantastic girl. She is a very good at school. I think I'm very lucky with her.

"I love it. I wouldn't look back now. It suits us perfectly. It means I can be a stay-at-home mum. The pay isn't fantastic but it's enough to be able to help me stay at home."

During the past 12 months the number of children in full-time care in Kingston has risen from 108 to 129.

Kingston Council makes sure foster carers are not left out of pocket but needs more carers from all backgrounds with a spare room to look after children.

Current carers include former Labour Party general secretary Peter Watt and his wife Vilma, and, until he died earlier this year, Moroccan acrobat Ali

Caring: Kate Martin with Sophina, 15, and JJ, five Deadlinepix KT31588

Hassani, and his wife, who continues to foster.

The service will hold events for people to learn more about fostering in the next few weeks, at places including Surbiton library, outside the Bentall Centre and at New Malden library.

To speak to somebody about fostering, call 020 8547 6042 or email fostering@rbk.kingston.gov.uk.

For dates and times of the fostering events visit kingston.gov.uk/adoptionandfostering.

Phone thief gets prison sentence

A man found with a stolen mobile phone stuffed down his pants will be deported after a six-month prison sentence.

Algerian immigrant Fethi Baouche, 33, was part of a north-African gang stealing phones from handbags to be sold in their home countries, where calls are cheap but phones are expensive.

Mobile phones started ringing in the smartly dressed man's pockets when he was searched by suspicious security guards in nightclub Oceana, who noticed him behaving strangely on March 11 this year.

Baouche, who appeared at Kingston Crown Court

by DAVID LINDSELL

d.lindsell@london.newsquest.co.uk

on Wednesday, May 19, had already been deported from the UK to Spain once, the court heard.

Police found 16 mobile phones in his pockets, six more in his socks and another one hidden in his underwear, spotted when he started fidgeting with his belt in the police van.

Officers also found a small bag of what appeared to be herbal cannabis, money and credit cards.

Commenting on the sentence Steve Fleury, manager of Oceana, said: "It was obvious this wasn't his first time. A number of people complained about mobile phones going missing on the night and it was discussed among ourselves as an issue.

"One of the doormen observed someone that didn't quite look natural. When we pulled him to one side phones started going off on his person. The guys did an exemplary job."

Baouche pleaded guilty to 13 counts of theft at an earlier hearing at Kingston Magistrates' Court.

He was told on Wednesday he would now spend six months in prison, minus the time he had already served in jail, and would then be deported.

Club pickpocket 'mortified' at crimes

A man caught with mobile phones bulging from his pockets pleaded guilty to eight counts of theft on Friday, May 14.

Precious Onyegbunwa, 23, went on a thieving spree in Oceana on April 22, and was caught by bar staff when he tried to run from the club.

All the phones were returned to clubbers and a search of his home in Cortis Road, Putney, turned up more stolen property, as well as a membership card for a goods for cash store.

The Nigerian, who was studying in the UK, was said to be filled with remorse.

His defence solicitor said: "He is mortified he's involved in this dishonesty."

"He comes from a very respectable family in Nigeria."

"He will never do anything like this again."

Magistrates handed Onyegbunwa 14 days' imprisonment for each offence, to run consecutively, totalling 112 days, with half of the time to be spent in custody.

The 20 days already spent in custody were deducted from the sentence.

Farmers harvest charity cash

Green-fingered enthusiasts at the Fircroft Trust were delighted to receive a £500 donation on Tuesday, May 18.

The charity was the latest to benefit from Surbiton's new farmers' market, held monthly in Maple Road.

The money will fund the replacement of a polytunnel at the Surbiton-based charity's gardening project.

Voice of the people

A new residents' association has been set up to give the people of Oakhill a community voice.

The non-political group's main concern is the development of the Surbiton Hospital site and the subsequent redevelopment of Oakhill Health centre.

A spokesman said: "There are misgivings about the proposal to build a primary school on the residue land next to the new polyclinic."

"It seems this is being put out for consultation when planning is already under way.

"It is understood that alternative uses for the site have not been seriously considered."

The group has been active since January, but would like more people to get involved.

The group's next meeting is on Thursday, May 27, at 8pm in Surbiton Baptist Church, Langley Road.

Residents from Kingsdowne Road, Ewell Road, South terrace, Glenbuck Road, South Bank and Upper Brighton Road are all welcome.

Christmas fight fine

A Christmas Eve reveller attacked a bouncer at the Fighting Cocks pub in Old London Road after he was asked to put out a cigarette.

Joseph Boorer, 30, of Acre Road, Kingston, made a last-minute change of plea at Kingston Magistrates' Court before his trial on Monday, May 17, and admitted assaulting doorman Daniel Tullett on December 24, 2009.

Boorer was fined £25 for smoking, £200 for the assault, £200 costs, a victim surcharge of £15 and compensation of £100, totalling £540.

Police raids lead to 'hate crime' arrests

by LOUISE ROBERTSON

lrobertson@london.newsquest.co.uk

Kingston police arrested seven people as part of Operation Athena, a capital-wide hate crime crackdown that came in the same week as the International Day Against Homophobia (Idaho).

The raids began just after midnight on Thursday, May 18, with arrests made throughout the day.

Detective Superintendent Darren Williams, head of the Metropolitan Police's hate crime unit, said: "The Met is resolute in its commitment to tackle hate crime in all its forms. This includes racist, homophobic and disability hate crime."

He said the under-reporting of hate crime remained a challenge but pledged to work hard to gain the public's trust, so victims felt safe coming forward.

In Kingston, a 21-year-old and 19-year-old were arrested and bailed on suspicion of causing actual bodily harm (ABH), while a 37-year-old was arrested on suspicion of ABH and malicious wounding.

Stephen Osbourne, 43, was charged, remanded in custody and handed a disposal fine for criminal damage and breach of bail.

Jean Paul Otitikunda, 37, was charged with breaching an injunction and bailed until May 28.

A 26-year-old man was cautioned for common assault and no further action was taken against a 25-year-old woman for ABH.

Call 0300 1231212 to report hate crime or visit met.police.uk.

All London boroughs also have third party or non-police reporting sites, for example galop.org.uk and londonfriend.org.uk, or call the helpline on 020 7837 7324.

Fairytale ending: Sean Hulbert with Viola and her artwork House-proud young artist

A Surbiton schoolgirl's dream home has caught the eyes of judges and landed her a runner-up spot in an annual drawing competition.

Letting specialist Leaders was inundated with hundreds of pictures for its competition and was impressed with Viola Benato's pretty collage of a fairytale castle.

The six year old won £20 worth of art equipment vouchers for coming runner-up in the four-to-seven age group.

Sean Hulbert, branch manager of Leaders, Surbiton, said: "Congratulations to Viola. Her picture was lovely and really made an impression on the judges."

"We were totally overwhelmed by the number and quality of the entries we received this year, so Viola did very well to win a prize."

□ Fix that leaky tap to save yourself money and get a peaceful night's sleep. A slow leak dripping 30 times a minute wastes more than 13 litres of water a day.

Time to grow your own?

Growing your own food is becoming more and more fashionable.

As the cheaper, greener and more sustainable alternative takes root, this season's collection holds a whole new meaning for Kingston residents, with sustainable gardening and food initiatives sprouting up all over the borough.

Food is cheaper and more accessible than ever, but there are hidden social and environmental costs behind cheap production and mass consumption. Current food systems are non-viable for the future, and the need for a sustainable food system is clear.

Zac Goldsmith, MP for

by CLARE BUCHANAN

lrobertson@london.newsquest.co.uk

Richmond Park and north Kingston, said: "The environmental crisis is our defining challenge. It may not be our most immediate issue, but in terms of scale, nothing comes close.

"Whereas the problem is global, the solution isn't always. Getting involved in growing food is the best way for people, particularly children, to learn about the natural world.

"And grassroots initiatives, particularly the broader ones like the Transition Town movement, are absolutely key."

The Transition Town Kingston food group has pioneered local projects, demonstrating to residents that creating their own sustainable systems by growing their own food is both easy and affordable.

The Kingston in Bloom competition has been encouraging sustainable gardening for the past five years. Open to everyone, it aims to improve the quality of Kingston's green spaces, small or large, from a small window box to a communal garden.

Kingston residents are well ahead of the trend, as the competition's all year round sustainable gardening category is proving popular, with more than 40 per cent of entries under this category.

Kate Lancaster, winner of last year's front garden category, showed that growing your own fruit and vegetables does not mean sacrificing a pretty garden. Her mini-allotment not only beat gardens full of annual flowers, but looks so good it attracts passersby daily.

By mixing in flowering plants or ornamental varieties, such as red flowered beans, crinkly leaved lettuce and yellow tomatoes, sustainable gardeners need not be denied beautiful blossoms.

The Clinic which can solve your denture problems

The Denture Clinic has been open for eight years, exclusively treating denture patients.

Dr Justin Stewart - Dental Surgeon

Owner Justin Stewart is the first biofunctional prosthetic system qualified dental surgeon in the UK- which is an advanced denture making technique - and he is one of only a handful of dentists in the UK who limits their treatments to only denture patients.

The clinic prides itself on being one of the best in the UK, with clients traveling from all around the country, from Cornwall or the north of England, to visit Justin and his team.

The main problems Dr Stewart encounters is that unlike other areas of dentistry, denture construction by the general dentist has not improved much as dentures are difficult to make well.

Typical new patients to The Denture Clinic may come in with a bag of several sets of dentures often because they do not fit well on the gums or drop when the patient talks or are painful.

At the clinic, they make complete dentures (for patients with no teeth) and partial dentures for patients who have only lost some teeth. They also offer a mini-dental implant system, which is particularly suitable for securing complete dentures. These implants are much smaller than conventional dental implants, are ideal for denture patients, and can be placed in a lunchtime visit. They are also much cheaper, approximately one third the cost of a conventional dental implant.

The clinic has seen and solved just about every conceivable denture problem that exists. Dentures don't offer a very 'sexy' image in the dentistry world and there are many misconceptions about them:

"Some patients sometimes feel that their general dentist is very good at treating their own natural teeth but is less able to help them with their denture problems. They may be told the dentures they have are as good as possible and that they will have to adapt to them. "This is rarely the case though, as almost always the fit, bite and appearance can be improved." Dr. Stewart explained.

The Denture Clinic receives a lot of referrals from general dentists for difficult denture cases and is achieving excellent results.

In fact, dentures made at the clinic reverse the sunken look (where cheeks and lips collapse) often found in denture patients. The face is built up again creating a non-surgical facelift effect. This, combined with much more natural-looking teeth, gives the patient a significantly younger, more attractive look.

The Denture Clinic also has a special service for patients who travel to us from a distance where we can make dentures in a day or over a one night stay. More details are on our website.

There is a list of frequently asked questions on the clinic's website where you can find out more.

The Denture Clinic offers a free consultation to all patients, regardless of whether they go ahead with a procedure or not. Dr. Stewart has drafted a booklet entitled 'Five Questions You Should Ask Before Having A Denture Made' which he will send out to customers who call and request one.

You can book a free consultation by calling 020 8404 1456. The clinic is happy to discuss any concerns you may have. Alternatively you can log onto their website www.thedentureclinic.co.uk

Dilapidated: A developer wants to transform the former warehouse into flats Deadlinepix KT31605

Car club sweetener

A property developer hopes to win round residents by proposing Kingston's first residential car club scheme in its application for 40 flats in New Malden.

Rhine Properties, a specialist in building flats and town houses in Germany, has submitted an outline planning application to Kingston Council for one and two-bedroom flats in Grafton Road.

Maureen Spoczynska, a Cleveland Road resident who earlier this year campaigned against a plan to build 61 flats in nearby Kingston Road, said her main concern was the size of the development and its "inadequate" parking.

Mrs Spoczynska said: "Even if the developer doesn't provide adequate parking, there's no guarantee the purchasers won't have a car and this will have a detrimental effect on the local parking situation.

"The developer is under the illusion that because the proposal is near a station the users of the 40 flats won't need or use a car and that anyone visiting will use public transport."

The dilapidated building in Grafton Road was last used as a warehouse for a packaging company until July 2007, when it began winding up its operation.

The developer's agent said a car club scheme could provide a solution to the anticipated parking problems and admitted there were no plans to provide car parking spaces on site.

"Before You Give Up, Do This..."

And you will be surprised how simple it is...

Dear friend,

Some people come to my office and tell me they have "tried everything". They come to me ready to give up.

Four out of five people that show up in my office have taken "every" test, spent a lot of money and are still no better off. Often, they've been subjected to medications that have only served to temporarily mask the symptoms. But, that's not what people are looking for.

Health (or a lack of it) very often has simple causes, and very reasonable corrections. That's what I'm going to tell you about. But before I tell you more, let me tell you something about me.

I have always been a very active child when I was young. I played ice hockey, being Canadian, and also did downhill ski racing. Well, unfortunately I had several accidents and injuries to my spine that for the most of them remained untreated for years. Then, at the age of 18 years old, I had excruciating back pain, shoulder problems, knee problems and even a lack of energy! Very uncommon for a young man. The problem got so bad that I was ready to try anything. I took medication without success.

A friend of mine convinced me to give his doctor a try. This new doctor does an exam, takes some x-rays of my spine, and then adjust my back (he tells me there is pressure on several nerves in my spine. The adjustment does not hurt, it actually feels really good. I get relief, and shortly, I can turn my head and bend my back again without any pain. Oh, did I mention that this doctor is a chiropractor? Chiropractic works so well for me, and I am so impressed with the other results I see in his office, that I eventually go to chiropractic school myself. And that is how it happened!

For the last 5 years, people from South-West London have come to see us with their back pain. They also come to me with their

- Headaches
- Migraines
- Chronic Pain
- Neck Pain
- Shoulder/Arm Pain
- Whiplash from car accident

- Numbness in hands or feet
 - Athletic injuries
- Just to name a few...*

Here's what some of our patients have to say:

"I feel better than I have in a long time"
(Jason Hall)

"No more headaches and neck pain, fantastic! Thanks to the ProBack team!"(Amanda Hanlin)

"Thanks for the ProBack Clinics team!"

"I have been able to go back to work after 3 years of severe back problems!"
(Paul Spencer)

Several times a day patients thank me for helping them with their health problems. But I can't really take the credit. I've never healed anyone of anything. What I do is perform a specific spinal adjustment with my ProBack Pulse to remove the nerve pressure and the body responds by healing itself. We get tremendous results; it is as simple as that!

When patients come to see us, they sometimes have a preconceived idea of what a chiropractors and manual therapists do. Well, the great thing with our technology is that it does NOT crack the spine and it is really efficient! It is a computerised treatment that create a small percussion that absolutely does not hurt at all.

Exciting Offer. I know that you are smart and you want to get to the cause of the problems, and not just cover them with drugs. When you are one of the first 10 people to call and schedule a new patient exam (by 10th June 2010) you will receive that entire exam, x-ray (if required) and one treatment if we can help you for only £60. But call right away because we expect to flooded with calls as those services costs normally £145. Again, there is only 10 of those spaces, so don't miss out.

Great care at great fee... Please, I hope that there's no misunderstanding about quality care just because I have a lower exam fee. You'll get great care at a great fee. The ProBack Pulse, a very sophisticated instrument that I use, gives us great results. My qualification is a Doctorate degree in Chiropractic from the CMCC in Toronto. I graduated in 1994 and now practice in Worcester Park.

My assistant is Joanna and she is a really great person. Our office is both friendly and warm and we try our best to make you feel at home. We have a wonderful service. Our office is called ProBack Clinics and it is located at 2 Grafton Road (Just by the Ewell bypass, ½ a mile south of Tolworth). Call Joanna or me today 0208 335 5445 for an appointment. Hopefully, we can help you. Thank you.

Dr Christian Allard DC

P.S. Of course, all the people respond differently to care and no doctor can (or should) guarantee a successful outcome. But, if you've tried everything but chiropractic, don't give up yet.

P.S. Do not stop any medication without consulting your GP about it.

Danger lurks due to ignorant riders

Why, when there is a perfectly good cycle lane in Portsmouth Road do cyclists persist in riding along the Queen's Promenade?

The signs says "No Cycling" or "Walk Your Cycle" clearly on the promenade surface so clearly you can see them using Google Earth on most computers.

Yet cyclists cannot see them while riding.

Could it be they cannot read, in which case I wonder how they obey other signs?

If they think using the cycle lane on the main road is dangerous then why cycle where parents are walking their children, or is that danger lost on you?

I've lost count of the times we have been closely passed by someone going very fast.

It's only a matter of time before a child is hit.

Do we have to wait before reacting to a tragic accident?

If any cyclists who read this are upset by my words then please have a word with other cyclists.

At least you can read. And in case you think I'm anti-cyclist, I am not.

I used to own one, but I was a rarity.

I obeyed the signs and traffic lights and can appreciate the dangers to cyclists.

Think about this. If you hit a small child riding illegally will you do the decent thing, stop and help and take the consequences of your actions?

Or will you ride off? If that is the case this letter is wasted on you.

Our church

Attacks from people calling themselves Catholic against the Christian Peoples Alliance are not as counterintuitive as they seem.

Our party's raison d'être is a reproach to the Christian churches, including my own, for their failure to get the secular parties to stem the tide of abortion, cohabitation, child poverty, illegal war, indebtedness, deepening social inequality and attacks on personal liberty, including religious freedom.

Christ chose ignorant fishermen without a theology degree among them. When did you last hear a priest give a sermon condemning abortion and Trident in the same breath?

Appeal goes out for more foster carers Cut chief exec's pay?

Nearly 20 years ago I made the decision to become a foster carer, leaving behind a career in teaching and youth work.

It is the best decision I could have made.

There is now a shortage of 2,000 foster carers in London at a time when more children need foster homes.

This means children too often face moving a long way from their family and friends and many cannot live with their brothers or sisters.

More foster carers are needed for local children and during this year's Foster Care Fortnight (May 17 to 30) we are calling for more people with the right skills and qualities to come forward.

I feel proud to have been able to make a difference to the lives of so many children and I would urge your readers to consider doing the same.

To find out more people, should speak to their local fostering service, call Fosterline on 0800 0407675 or visit couldyoufoster.org.uk.

Further to the new Liberal Democrat-Conservative Government, they have taken the decision to cut ministers' salaries by 5 per cent and freeze pay for five years.

Will now the Lib Dem administration follow suit and cut the chief executive and senior council officers' wages to help to council reduce costs?

In April, the Lib Dems stated they would be making 200 posts redundant in the next three years.

Will they be honest enough to state where these jobs will go from and how much it will cost to make this employees redundant?

Balham laundrette owner, Lucinda Belle is saying farewell to dirty undies and hello to stardom as she prepares for an appearance at Hampton Court Palace Festival.

Belle was spotted by Fearn Cotton playing the harp and singing backing vocals for Robbie Williams last year and has since signed with Universal Records.

Next up is her performance at the Hampton Court Palace Festival on June 12.

"We really owe so much to Henry VIII, he was a great composer," she says.

"If it wasn't for him we wouldn't have the Christ Church Cathedral Choir. But he didn't use the type of harp that I play. His was more like a Gaelic harp or lyre."

At 36 Belle is about to release her debut album, My Voice & 45 Strings. She has worked as a session musician for the Pet Shop Boys and Annie Lennox.

"I have always loved doing session work because it's creative – you're part of something that's bigger than you," she says.

"But working on the album was an absolutely amazing experience."

"To be in a room with all these musicians, and actually working on an album that's yours, not someone else's, navigating the music, is fantastic."

"Initially the album was a bit more country, but it turned towards gypsy jazz with southern gospel influences."

Belle has recently had to put her laundrette on the market, to the dismay of others on the shopping parade.

"It has always helped me to keep one foot in the industry, and it's like a family heirloom," she says.

"I haven't sold it yet, and if I don't have to I'd rather not, but it's not looking good at the moment."

"Breaking into the industry was a hard slog, during which Belle also worked as a music teacher."

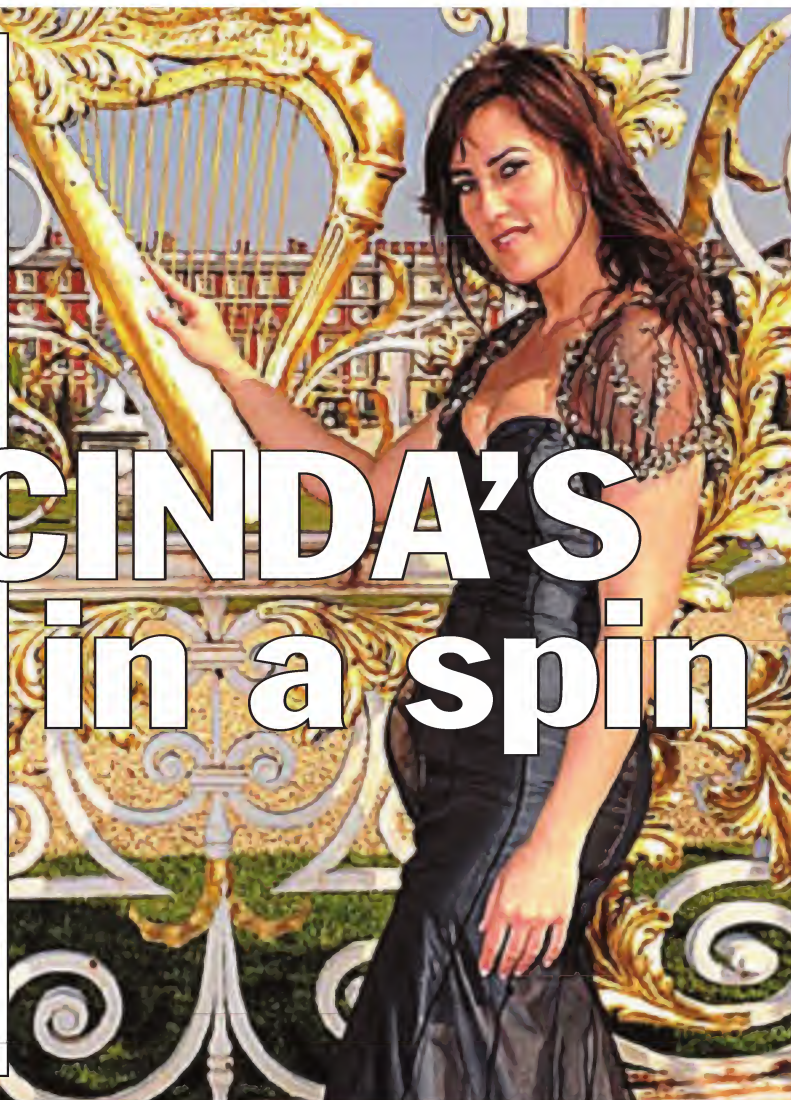

"It's not like I've just been trying for two years. When you're a bit older I think you're grateful when these opportunities come along," she says.

Belle will perform at the festival on the same night as Nicola Benedetti.

Mischief makers

Loki's Motif are aiming to make waves this year with the recent release of their debut single, So Be It. The Kingston six-piece play The Fighting Cocks on Saturday and SIMON FITZJOHN caught up with them ahead of the gig.

Q. How did you guys form as a band?

A. We formed off the back of two separate bands splitting; with bassist, Alex, and guitarist, Henry, joining four members of the disbanded Jonny Mischief. With new directions we started rehearsing over the summer of 2009 and started gigging last September.

Q. Please explain the band name!

A. Four of us (Greg, James, Colin and Mark) were in a band called Jonny Mischief. We decided to drop that name but liked its meaning. Loki is a Norse God and his theme (Motif) is mischief. Therefore it's a subtle reference to our former band. The link to Norse mythology represents the free and natural ethos to writing that we share – there are no set structures that we keep to; it's whatever sounds good to us.

Q. How would you describe your particular style?

A. A passionate, progressive sound with punk and maths influences.

Q. How exciting is it to have just released your debut EP?

A. We recorded the EP in Northampton at The Lodge Studios, a place we would be more than happy to visit again. The whole recording process was a relaxed, creative and expressive experience, that brought us even closer together. We are really pleased with how it sounds.

Q. How would you assess the current music scene?

A. If we are talking about Kingston, with awesome local venues such as The Fighting Cocks and The Peel hosting hundreds of diverse gigs and Banquet Records (the kind people who run New Slang) constantly attracting big names to play in Kingston, as well as not forgetting about the local bands, I am sure it will always be very strong. This puts the Kingston scene in good hands and in a flourishing position.

■ Loki's Motif play The Fighting Cocks on Saturday and New Slang @ The Hippodrome on July 22. For more information, visit myspace.com/lokismotif

Why I boxing

■ What is your background in boxing? I am originally from a martial arts background. I started wing chun kung fu and judo about the age of 10. Over the years, I trained in various clubs in boxing and martial arts. Ten years ago, I began training with Paul Webber, who is now a pro coach.

■ Why did you decide to start the BoxLondon classes? For years, I have been teaching wing chun kung fu for Kamon martial arts federation, and more and more I would show bits of boxing in the class, as they complement each other so well. I then began teaching it privately to some of the students and thought, 'I should really run a class'. I didn't want to run a spit and sawdust gym as I thought it should be accessible to everyone. So my fiancée Naomi Ryan and I came up with the idea for BoxLondon.

■ How many classes are there now? We have two classes in Tooting, two in Sutton, one opening soon in Clapham Junction and another in Wimbledon. We also have regular seminars and meets for those good enough to get in the ring and take it to the next level.

■ What are the main benefits of boxing training? Boxing has always been about the best all-round way to get fit, and stay fit. I find it odd that people would want to go running on their own when they could be getting great exercise, learning a skill and how to defend themselves but, most of all, meeting new people. We get some really nice folk come to our classes, and we all train in a relaxed and friendly way. It is great to see the big, strong guys having a spar with the kids at the end of class.

■ Have you trained anyone who is now in the ring or do you have anyone we should look out for? Paul Webber has a great boxer called Richie E who I have sparred many painful rounds with. I spar mostly with Sean Douglas at the moment – he is very good. I am surprised by how many from BoxLondon already look like competitive boxers and could have a really good chance of taking it up a step.

■ Who is your favourite boxer of all-time? I could say Ali, but my heart says Paul Webber.

Bengali Food Festival

from 1st June - 31st July 2010

Indian and Thai Fine Cuisine

"Bengali cuisine is one of the most exciting in Britain today offering a true experience of the subtle spicing that makes Indian food so special. A special cuisine needs a special restaurant and Sesame certainly fits the bill".

Peter Grove editor Mood Food Magazine

"We rarely get to taste authentic Bengali cuisine, so when a restaurant with the skills of Sesame stages their Festival, it is an opportunity not to be missed."

Pat Chapman, Founder, The Curry Club, Proprietor, Cobra Good Curry Guide.

"As a result of the exceptionally positive feedback we have received from our customers about your restaurant over the past year, we are delighted to present you with a Tiptable Gold Award. This is a genuine accomplishment ... and we are delighted to say your restaurant achieved the highest rating".

Karen Hanton, Founder, toptable April 2010.

Top rated golden award winner in 2010 by toptable online bookers

Bangladesh and west Bengal, India's largest state, share a unique and delicious cuisine which has been around for thousands of years. Mustard seeds, theromatic nigella seeds, and the unique spice mixture, Panch Phoran make Bengali cuisine distinctive and they appear in some of the dishes on this special menu. Beef is a very popular dish and is enjoyed by Bengalis and the menu offers the classic Beef Bhuna. Bengalis adore fish too; hilsa, baim, hital, and pomfret appears in various dishes. There's Lamb Rejala, and several chicken classics, some, correctly, on the bone. Vegetables include the unmissable Lal Sag (red spinach), two fine aubergine dishes and the wonderful dal bhuna lentil dish. In the 19th century, Bengal became famous for its sweets and sweetmeats, and no Bengali meal would be complete with a dessert. We rarely get to taste authentic Bengali cuisine, so when a restaurant with the skills of Sesame stages their Festival, it is an opportunity not to be missed.

As regular readers of my bar room dispatches will know the Kingston riverside is not my favourite place, but Pubspy is an intrepid old soak.

Yes, that's right, I girded my liver once again and found another of the royal borough's hostelrys on the banks of the Thames to frequent.

The Boaters Inn was my destination and I must confess, the walk to the pub through Canbury Gardens, where it is situated, did little to fill my heart with song.

The houses that overlook the river are magnificent – just the kind of place I could see myself residing in, feet up in the garden, long drink in hand and giving passing sailors a friendly wave, but sadly this is just steak and ale pie in the sky.

Thankfully my spirits were raised when I arrived at the pub as I managed to grab one of the coveted balcony seats and, although it wasn't quite the garden of a riverside mansion, it did for me.

The pub itself is a classy joint, with wood panelling and tasteful furniture the order of the day. I'm reliably informed that the live music the pub regularly hosts is well worth catching too and, on reflection, it's a boozer

I'm happy to recommend.

The only downside was that the wait to get served seemed to last longer than the World Snooker Final and if there is one thing you never do, it is keep a thirsty Pubspy waiting.

THE BOATERS INN, CANBURY GARDENS, LOWER HAM ROAD, KINGSTON, KT2 5AU

How The Boaters rates (out of five):

DECOR: * A decent interior although on a nice day you'll want to be outside

DRINK: * My lager top went down a treat

PRICE:  Standard for this neck of the woods

ATMOSPHERE: * Plenty of fun in the sun

STAFF: * As my maths teacher used to say, "I'm not impressed"

BMW 320d EFFICIENT DYNAMICS

BMW change the game plan yet again

With an engine tuned to run cleaner and greener and the inclusion of an ignition stop-start system, low-rolling resistance tyres, subtle aerodynamic improvements, a gear shift indicator and modified gear ratios, BMW 320d Efficient Dynamics is something of a game-changer writes Iain Dooley.

Such has been the pace of progress in a few short years that we've come a long way from the novelty of cars with low CO2 ratings. Even engine stop-start systems are becoming the norm.

No company can take more credit for exposing the motoring public to such things more than BMW. Through the German firm's Efficient Dynamics programme, numerous cars within its range boast class-leading levels of CO2 and economy figures. Reducing emissions and fuel consumption means it's the end user with a growing tax bill who benefits.

Nowhere is this more obvious than with BMW's new 3 Series model, the 320d Efficient Dynamics variant. It might sound ungainly but BMW has thrown the high-tech kitchen sink at its key, fleet-friendly model in a bid to get the numbers to new highs – and lows.

The 3 Series remains a cornerstone of the firm's popular line-up. This is most obvious in the compact premium fleet sector and, when you are paying serious sums in tax, you want your car to keep most of your hard-earned money in your wallet.

So important is the company car market to BMW in the UK that it lobbied hard for its German bosses to agree to a super-efficient 3 Series to maintain its already strong position in the market.

And what a car it got. Boasting a CO2 figure better than most superminis – 109g/km – plus an equally impressive combined economy figure of 68mpg, only the tax-man is likely to be disappointed.

This is no real-world compromise, though. At this car's heart is a 163 horsepower, four-cylinder diesel motor capable of outputting a healthy 280lb/ft of torque, helping to send the car on its way to 62mph in a very un-green eight seconds.

As a showcase for what's possible, and affordable, this particular 3 Series nails it – and from just £27,245.

From an engine tuned to run greener and the inclusion of an ignition stop-start system to low-rolling resistance tyres, aerodynamic improvements, a gear shift indicator and modified gear ratios, all these features combine to deliver that magic 109g/km CO2 figure and road tax on a par with a one-point-nothing city car.

On the road, this car drives like any other 160-odd horsepower 3

Series. This is good news, as the last thing you want is to have to modify your driving style to achieve the sky-high mpg figure.

Being realistic, it's likely the car will be driven sensibly by the fleet community, making it a relatively easy job to keep the fleet manager happy and the expense account solvent. There's no bone-hard ride, and engine and road noise has been kept to a minimum, as you would expect from any 3 Series BMW.

As an example of what can be done to reduce emissions and fuel consumption, this 3 Series is an impressive achievement. That is has been done without a hint of compromise regarding the driving and ownership experience shows that making savings doesn't have to hurt.

If you think this is impressive, just think what's possible with the rest of its range.

As it stands, this 3 Series is something of a game-changer.

England ace
Whatley full of optimism

New Malden's Sam Whatley admits the England cerebral palsy side have made winning a habit – and insists they can secure more silverware at the BT Paralympic World Cup this weekend, writes Nick Clowes.

The 22-year-old was part of the England team to lift successive trophies last season at the Arafura Games in Australia and Home Nations Championships in Lilleshall.

But, while this week's BT Paralympic World Cup represents their biggest challenge yet, with opponents the Netherlands and Ireland ranked higher in the world, Whatley is adamant England – playing under the GB flag in Manchester – can emerge victorious.

“The Paralympic World Cup should be a really good competition,” said Whatley.

“Training has been getting a lot harder and everyone is really looking forward to it.

“There's a lot of confidence in the squad, which is natural after our run.

“The lads are saying Holland should be the hardest game because they're the highest ranked team, but Ireland are just above us in the rankings as well so we're not taking anything for granted.”

The BT Paralympic World Cup is taking place from May 25-31 and features the world's leading international Paralympic athletes in athletics, football (seven-a-side), swimming and wheelchair basketball. Check out btparalympicworldcup.com

Dowson to bide his time

by STUART AMOS

samos@london.newsquest.co.uk

Kingstonian boss Alan Dowson says he will not be rushed into any transfer movement this summer and is confident players will come to him rather than the other way round.

Dowson this week confirmed Simon Huckle, Max Hustwick, Rob Tolfrey, Matt Gray and Mo Harkin had committed themselves to the club for another tilt at the Ryman League Premier Division crown.

The Kingsmeadow chief paid the price for nailing his colours to the mast early last summer, as contracted players Luke Garrard, Tommy Williams and Liam Collins failed to make an impression after earning promotion from Division One South.

Dowson, who let the trio leave the club last week and released John Fletcher at the weekend, is unlikely to make the same mistake again as he hunts six new faces for the coming campaign.

But, while he is keen to meet as many prospective new players as he can, he will be leaving it as late as possible to confirm his squad for the opening day of the season.

“This time last year, I had everybody sorted, but I'll not have anyone signed up for another couple of weeks yet,” he said.

“I've spoken to a couple of targets and some have turned us down, but I'm not too bothered.

“I want players who want to play for this club. Kingstonian means something again.

“It is a club going places and if that is not a big enough pull for players then so be it. I've got stacks of time.

“We are looking for five or six players, but I don't think I need my squad finalised until two or three weeks before the first day.”

Ks lost out in the play-off final at Boreham Wood and still await a Football Association judgment on whether the hosts will face sanctions in the wake of a Wood fan's attack on skipper Francis Duku.

A replay looks increasingly unlikely.

Forward defence: Action from Malden Wanderers' narrow defeat at the hands of Banstead on Saturday Deadlinepix Amy Weston SP30668

Killer blow for Malden

Malden Wanderers fell to a one-wicket defeat in Saturday's Surrey Championship Premier Division clash at home to Banstead.

John Hess hit 87 as Wanderers raced to 246-8 in their 50 overs.

However, Banstead scraped through after a sublime innings, with Rory Burns hitting 92 as they reached the target with just one ball to spare.

The result leaves Wanderers in seventh place in the table. They travel to Weybridge this Saturday.

MOTOR RACING: Team Aon boss Mike Earle insists New Malden's Tom Onslow-Cole will still be in a competitive car when the British Touring Car Championship returns to action at Oulton Park next weekend. Series organiser TOCA has ruled any car running on liquified petroleum gas (LPG) fuel – such as the Aon Ford Focus STs – must now have a 37mm turbo inlet restrictor fitted to its engine. Earle said: “While any change to our engine's specification and the resulting reduction in power will surely hurt us, I also feel that the engine is only one part of our overall package.”

HOCKEY: Surbiton U12 girls finished third in the national finals of the Yazoo Mini Championships in Nottingham. In the Championship Pool, a 2-0 win over Canterbury and a 0-0 draw with eventual champions City of York weren't enough to lift the title, with Surbiton finishing a point behind City of York and Old Loughtonians.

SQUASH: Thames Ditton-based Colets Health & Fitness men have won the national knockout title for the fourth successive year and the seventh time in eight years. They clinched the crown with a 5-0 thumping of Pontefract in Nottingham. The over-35 team won their age-group championship while the women were third in their event. Colets will be aiming to win the European Championship in September.
